

Kundalini Spirit

~ A Ode To Her Long Lost Love In Contemplation ~

She lays before Him stuck...caught in Her own remembrance...

Unable to seek justice for Herself she mounts her white stallion and disembarks.

She asked Him for pros to engage the Dragon, her fete...for the Kundalini to take ride.

She wants his human gaze...

She can see his noise, his contemplation, his beautiful human mind...

She has a nickname for him, it is Lupin. He is Her Ray of Light...He is a beautiful soul that is bound to Her in Light. Bradpadi in her own discussion is her name... its Sanctuary.

Unable to seek justice she is lost amongst the dragons, her steed lost sight within all the flames.

She is lost...they are both anchored in Jyestha unable to see Light...

For them we ALL weep...

She is on Her pedestal in retraction...

He tells Her "Look beyond your trades and reenter life with each other" ...Disembark

You sought justice within the Holly Bush and she lays dead awake...

barren without a doubt

She needs to drink from the Mountains of Glory where the upliftment of Spirit can take place again...

the Himalayas, they are a wonderment we ALL seek.

Chit ChitSat

Realignment needs to take place...her chakras are out of balance

She has discovered an injustice for her own mind

Human wanting...Trespass